

HOW TO BE A TEACHER TRAINER

Course dates

4 August - 17 August

Course fees

£1435

Course location

University of Kent

This course is liable for VAT

Target audience

Native speakers and non-native speakers with at least an upper-intermediate level of English (B2)

Experienced language teachers who want to become teacher trainers

Those new to teacher training, including directors of studies, who want to develop their skills further

Course summary

The course focuses on ways of helping and training teachers. The content will be practically orientated and a 'reflective' approach is taken. You will examine the major differences between language teaching and teacher training, investigate different ways of planning and presenting sessions and enhance your "people skills." By the end of the course you will have covered those key areas necessary to feel more confident either to take up a training position or to develop further in your current role. Materials will be partly customised for the group by the main trainer, supplemented by published materials. You will also become familiar with resources like HLT Mag and the Teacher Trainer Journal.

Course content

Identify and discuss qualities needed to be an effective teacher trainer.
